in command of the steamer Stonington to prevent them from transferring any quarantine passengers or luggage to Fire Island or any other place in the town of Islip, L. I. The defendants are to show cause on Thursday why this injunction should not be made permanent. The com-plaint in the action sets forth the pur-chase of the Surf Hotel and Island from

Mr. Sammis for the use and shelter of the orbin passengers from the vessels detain-ed at quarantine. It also sets forth that by Acting Secretary Grant and Brigadier-General Flagler had an audience with Secretary Foster again about the taking possession of Sandy Hook for quarantine purposes. They urged that it would par-alize military operations on the Hook and lay the entire country round about liable to infection. Secretary Foster made several vigorous and characteristic remarks, and the interview terminated rather abruptly without Secretary Foster reversing his action in the premises.

Among other points which the Secretary made in reply to the War Department officials, he said the stopping of military operations was a very insignificant matter as compared with stopping the inroads of cholera, and that while the occupation of Sandy Hook might affect a few hundred, or perhaps a thousand people round there, it would be of great benefit to the country at large, and he (Secretary Foster) was act-ing for the American people.

Babylon, Sept. 12.—This village is in a state of the wildest confusion. Angry men are at every corner uttering deep threats against the proposed invasion from the cholera-laden Normannia and Rugas. It is quite evident that the residents are determined to prevent by extrema measures the landing of the beats. This morning Judge Wilmot M. Parrish and Tyler Speak.

Williamsburg, Va., Sept. 12.—[Special.]
Before the public speaking began to-day
Mr. Andrew J. Barnes, chairman of the Democratic party of the county, rapped the assemblage to order and announced that the time had arrived to elect delegates and alternates to the Newport Congressional Convention, which meets on the lith instant. The following were then elected: Powhatan district, C. A. Branch, delegate; Stonehouse, W. R. Branch, and Jamestown, Dr. E. G. Booth. The delegates were given the right to select their own alternates. No instructions were given, but it is understood that the delegation atands two pronounced for Tyler and one not yet decidedly in his favor.

This business being concluded, Dr. E.
G. Booth arcse and introduced the speaker,

Hon. F. M. Parrish, of Goochland, whom he spoke of as a typical farmer, a typical Alliance man and a typical Democrat. Mr. Parrish reviewed the history of the rise of the Third party and of the wrongs and TO MEET JACKSON AND MITCHELL grievances which it is alleged called it into existence, but said if these wrongs exist they are not chargeable to the Democratic party, as it has not had the entire control of the Government since the days of James Buchanan.

He paid his respects to General Weaver and said that he could not and would not yote for him, and he did not think that any said that any Southerner, could yote for and said that he could not and would not vote for him, and he did not think that any Democrat and Southerner could vote for this man "who had vilified and maligned those heroes who followed the defeated but glorious Lost Cause," and then read an extract from a speech delivered by Weaver in 1866. In speaking of General Field he said that the most charitable construction he could put upon his acts was that the General was "in his dotage."

The Force bill was taken up and its practical working explained. He told how it menaced the rights and liberties of the citizen and of the horrible results that would come from its passage, which would certainly become a law if the Republican party succeeds at the next election, and emphasized the assertion that every vote cast for the People's party, so-called, would only increase the chances of that party's control of national affairs. While the audience was a fair one in point of numbers, which doubtless would have been much larger if sufficient time had been given to circulate the notice, yet it was earnest and the weaker's remarks were circulate the notice, yet it was earnest and thoughtful, and the speaker's remarks were thoughtful, and the speaker's remarks were frequently punctuated with rounds of appeause. Mr. Parrish's address will be productive of much good.

He was followed by Hon. D. Gardiner Tyler, who spoke of the Third party as "midsummer madness" and was only calculated to do harm to the Democratic cause and cautioned his hearers against being deluded by its teachings and deceived by false promises.

Continuing, the speaker said that there continuing, the speaker said that there are two great parties struggling for the mastery in this nation and only two. On the one hand may be seen the banner on which is inscribed "High taxes, special privileges and bayonet rule," and on the other written in living colors are "Low taxes, equal rights to all and home rule."

Mr. Tyler spoke at some length, presenting the leading issues of the canvass in a clear and forcible manner. He was listened to with pleasure throughout his able address and was loudly applauded at its conclusion.

Rousing Political Speaking.

Bowling Green, Va., Sept. 12.—Special, Hon. R. H. Cardwell and Hon. James N. Stubbs spoke here to-day and made a fine impression on the people. Mr. Stubbs said that the Democratic andience that greeted him to-day was the most enthusiastic and the most determost enthusiastic and the most determined he had met in his travels during this campaign. There will be a brave, determined fight in this county. Our people are catching the inspiration that comes from the assurance that all the other sister Southern States are going to cast their votes for Cleveland and Stevenson, and we are beginning to realize that to Virginia, the Old Dominion, the Democratic party of the nation is looking, and asking: "Will she do her duty now in this time of need? Will she be true to herself?"

Under the Australian Ballot System ... The Republican Plurality is Greatly Reduced.

LIEUT. PEARY'S DISCOVERIES.

He Makes a Successful Trip Through the Interior Arctic Ice Regions.

St. John, N. F., Sept. 12.-The steamer Kite arrived here from McCormick harbor after twelve months in the arctic regions, bringing with her Lieutenant Peary, with his wife and party. All are safe and well, with one exception. Lieutenant Peary made a stage journey with dogs of thirteen hun-dred miles over the interior ice which he found available. He was out ninety days and returned all right August 4th. He made important discoveries, confirming his theory.

Mr. Verhoff, the meteorologist of the party. went on a two days' geological trip to a neighboring settlement. Failing to return at the end of that time, the party started after him, but found no trace of him. For six days the entire party searched for him. On the sixth day they found some minerals placed by Verhoff on a rock and traces of his footsteps to a large wicked-looking glare, and here all signs of him were lost. No signs of) the missing man were found, and they were forced to believe that he had met his fate in one of the numerous crevasses.

The expedition was a great success, among Lieutenant Peary's discoveries being one of a great bay latitude $1.37, longitude .34, opening out east and northeast, which he named independence bay, in honor of the day, July 4th, and the Great Glacler, flow-day. July 4th, and the Great Glacier, flow-ing north into Academy Glacier.

UNION CLUB ON DECK AGAIN.

Enthusiastic Meeting at Powell's Hall, Political Gossip. The Union Democratic Club, with the old Virginia spirit that never tires, met in large numbers at Powell's Hall, Church Hill, lest night. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, President W. H. Cullingworth stated that the regular order of business would be dispensed with, so they could listen to the Hon. F. M. Parrish, of Goochland, as he was to speak in Manchester later

Mr. Parrish was warmly received, and said that it gave him pleasure to be with the club for the first time. He felt at home, because he was with Virginians, and believed that they all felt the same love for the Old Dominion that he did.

He believed with the Senator (Daniel) that Democracy was next to religion. He would not preach a sermon, but asked their attention to matters almost as serious. Heretofore we have had only the Re-Mr. Parrish was warmly received, and their attention to matters almost as serious. Heretofore we have had only the Republican party to fight and now we have another one. They call themselves, said he, the People's party, but he called them the Third party. There was but one People's party, the Democratic party!

This new party thinks they have found new salvation for the State an the union. They promise milk and honey for all if we only have free coinage.

They promise that we farmers and workingmen can have all the money we went, and prosperity generally. What a fallacy! I favored another man for Prosident, being opposed to Mr. Cleveland, but I believe now, fortunately, I was in a small minority at Chicago.

The speaker explained the silver question with facts and figures, and told the club the Democratic position on it. He then attacked the McKinley bill and exposed its fallacies and its pretended relief to the people, showing them that the wages of warkingmen had been low. lief to the people, showing them that the wages of workingmen had been low-

He could not believe that Virginia was going to vote for Harrison, for that means that you will have the Force bill in operation, if he can give it to you. And he has said he would, so you can ex-pect it. The Force bill takes the election of congressmen out of the hands of the people.

Letters of cheer and good will were read by the secretary from Grover Cleveland, General Fitzhugh Lee and Mr. H. M. Bancroft, the president of the Mineral City Club, of Louisa.

This will most probably be at the Academy of Music. Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson and Congressman Isadore Rayner, of Baltimore, will be the speakers.

The new flag that the city central committee of the Democrats will hang across Main street, from their headquarters in the National Bank of Virginia building, has come. The American eagle upon it hovers with wings spread out over the vignettes of Cleveland and Stevenson, and underneath all is the inscriptions. "For President, Grover Cleveland, of New York," and "For Vice-President, Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois. Below are the words, "For Gongress, George D. Wise."
